| Title of Submission: | Getting to know our communities   |
| Comments:            | Many residents of our towns, villages and rural areas are deeply concerned at the lack of knowledge available re individuals and families who have arrived over the past few years. It's concerning and acknowledged now at national level that many people renting properties are not registered with the Tenants Registration Board so there is no available record re their tenants. If police reform is going to work it must prioritise a policy of identifying residents of all nationalities, as a first step. It's vitally important and a police force can only perform well if they know who they are dealing with within their duristrition. |
