Comments:	The first thing is that the practice of crime paying has to be stopped. Time after time criminals walk free after getting a fine of approx 10%, of the value of what they have stolen. The second thing is the abuse of the bail system if a crime is committed while out on bail there should be no second bail. Third the system will have to change for repeat offenders. The total cost of defending a person with over 300 previous convictions from conviction No 1 is too great as most of these are on free legal aid aid.
