

Hi

Regarding policing planning should be the start with planning for social policing of the correct pathway for estates in the design of the living areas openness of decent people instead of hideaway houses or unseen crime in rat runs that have created what we have today criminals do not like been watched forget designers of houses ask the dogs in the street what is happening.

Regards

██████████